DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 2, there is no antecedent basis for “the embodiment”.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lay (US patent 2,043,758).

The patent to Lay discloses the invention, a brush, as is claimed (figs. 2,3), including brush bristles provided in tufts (9,10). The bristles of tufts (9) are shorter than those of tufts (10) and are relatively coarse and stiff while the bristles of the longer tufts (10) are relatively fine. Defining the brush as a “coating” brush does not define any particular structure for the brush. Such relates to the intended use of the device. The brush of Lay could be used in any manner so desired, including as a coating brush, nothing would prevent such. Also, the bristles are for simultaneous presentation against an “architectural” surface, at least as far as such defines any particular surface (see figure 3). The presenting against a surface relates to the intended use of the brush and does not define any particular structure for the brush, at least none not disclosed by Lay.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12 May 2006, 07 July 2005 and 20 December 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that his invention focuses on the use of the bristles as a means to release and smooth a coating on a surface while the reference patents are concerned with mechanical dislodgement, massage, and removal. Such relates to the intended use of the device and does not act to distinguish from Lay. A recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. The device of Lay could be used to smooth a coating. Nothing would prevent such.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
